

Dear Friend of the Copley Society,

Since 1879, the Copley Society of Art has provided a platform for arts cultivation while engaging and educating the public. With distinguished former members such as John Singer Sargent and Winslow Homer, the Copley Society strives to continue a pattern of excellence in its artist membership. The mission of the Copley Society is to bring arts to the community and to bring the community to the arts. As arts related funding decreases, your tax-deductible donation to the Copley Society of Art sustains arts programming and community engagement.

In 2016, the Copley Society's diverse programming continued to extend beyond the Newbury Street location.

- Awarded the Charles Family Residency to Nancy Colella at the Cape Ann Museum in Gloucester
- Launched new Copley Society web site, www.copleysociety.org
- Exhibited Summer Members Show, curated by Austen Barron Bailly, American Art Curator from the Peabody Essex Museum
- Hosted ten solo exhibitions at the Newbury Street gallery and at Boston Private, Prudential Center
- Participated in Boston's Open Newbury Street initiative in August
- Welcomed Cuban artist exhibition, curated by Camilo Alvarez, to Copley Society in September
- Participated in Fall Art Week, with a Steinway Spirio presentation in the Newbury Street gallery
- Celebrated the 28th annual Fresh Paint Gala Auction in May with more than 75 Copley artists
- Collaborated with the Cultural Center of Cape Cod for a Copley on the Cape Art Exhibit juried by Boston Designer Paula Daher
- Established a new off-site exhibition venue for Copley artists at Charles Fine Arts in Gloucester
- Welcomed Elizabeth Ayer and Andrew Wiles to the Board of Governors
